“ Debbie and Eric we were so happy when the family moved to Devonshire Estates. Alex and Matthew became friends immediately and continued their friendship even after you moved. Thinking about Alex puts a smile on our faces.

It was wonderful to share Thanksgiving dinner at our house a couple of years ago with Alex. He will be greatly missed.

When we look into the backyard we think of Alex and the rest of your family.

May his memory be for a blessing, and his kindness and caring be carried on forever.

Sending virtual hugs and kisses to the Dadey family.

Our deepest condolences.

“ While I did not know Debbie's family personally, I've known her for many years and have been a guest in her home, and I'm positive her household was held together by deep love for each other. There are no words that will bring them comfort during this time of loss, but I want them to know they are in my family's thoughts and prayers.

“ I don't have any younger siblings, so as a kid I based my assumptions of what a younger brother would be like from TV and movies. But when I became friends with Becky in middle school and started spending time at her house and with her family, Alex couldn't have been further from that "pesky little brother" cliché. He was so sweet and kind to me, to his brother and sister, and to his parents. It was so clear how much he loved his family and how much his family loved him. Sending love and peace to the entire Dadey family.

“ *Dadey Family,
I am shocked as I write this. Alex was such a great "kid", so full of life, loved being outdoors. I always used to see him out my back windows on his skateboard. I wish you peace & sympathy at this time. Keeping you all in my thoughts & prayers.*

“ Alex had been my younger brother for the past 5 years. While the Dadeys welcomed me into their family with open arms, it was the moment Alex hugged me that I felt like I was a Dadey. I loved knowing him, spending time with him, hearing his stories, laughing with him... talking about the most ridiculous things with him. We had fun times in Dollywood, Sanibel Island, Boston... We spent holidays together, and he was there in one of the happiest days in my life-- at my wedding-- smiling, laughing, joking, and dancing. I loved his connection with my nephew, showing him his dance moves and playing with him. Alex always had a big heart, and was always willing to help. I saw a lot of myself in him. There aren't many people in life that I truly felt connected to... and Alex was one of those people.

I miss you little bro. You didn't have to go.

“ Alex was a very very hard working young man, I was happy to consider him a dear friend of mine even if we didn't talk much after I lost my job working with him, no matter what I considered him a friend, and I cared about him greatly, I also respected him a lot. It is a very shame that he's gone but I hope he's no longer in pain. Rest in peace, Buddy. You'll never be forgotten.

Debbie, our deepest sympathy to you and your family for your devastating loss. We are both extremely saddened and shocked to hear this news. Alex was such a handsome, funny little guy with the most beautiful smile. We have great memories of our years together at Werner Elementary; soccer practices/games; parties and play dates. Hoping you can heal and find peace. The Born family

“ Eric and Debbie I am so very sorry. My heart breaks for you. My fondest memory of Alex is when we all spent the night at Mt. LeConte. It was an amazing over night stay where everything fell in place. The weather cleared up and we got to see a beautiful sunset. However, the hike back to the lodge was very difficult to manage in the dark. Have no fear, Alex was there! He had flashlights and went ahead and led the way. He found the best route to take and helped us step up, down and around the rocks. He was amazing. I found out during that trip that he had a Love for fixing motorcycles. He opened up and shared his passion with us. He also helped us light our room candles in the evening when we went back to our cabins. He was just an awesome young man!! I am so grateful for the time we all spent together and pray that peace surrounds him and your family during this difficult time.

*With thoughts and prayers.
