“ She was married to my Uncle Gene and she was a role model for me when I was young. She was like a mother helping me with girl things. I loved her so very much but unfortunately as a lot of people do when they grow up and are no longer close to them you lose touch and I'm so sad that is what I did. You don't really realize these things until it's too late.

A great lady, her and Gene were always thought of greatly. Like second family. My Dad, Harold Williamson always thought a lot of them.
