“ Because Charles was the oldest he had the privilege of looking after the rest of us and driving us around town. He would take us to Burger Chef for a milkshake or to the Woodzo or Newport Drive In for a movie. My favorite memory was when he had just bought his first new car, a Toyota Tercel, and he came to Newport to show it off. I asked him if I could drive it, he said sure, so I drove it from town all the way home. Moma yelled at him, why on earth would he let a 14 yr old drive a brand new car. I didnt tell him I had never really driven on the road before. The look on his face!! We talked about that for years afterward.

“ After supper me and Charles would dance in the living room to Tina Turner (he was Tina) or Sonny and Cher (I was Sonny). He enjoyed brushing Julie’s long hair, reading your cards and laying in the sun with moma. Charles and Sammy were together over 38 years. They shared a long life loving one another. Now Sammy and daddy are together reading the paper. Moma and Charles are cooking.
