Clark's 2 front teeth were knocked out, so he doesn't fully smile.

Also, he makes a "W" with his hands meaning West Side for (Las Vegas).

I will always love you, my son...

What a wonderful memorial! I never met Clark but you can see his love of life in his pictures and I know if he's anything like his mom, he was a very loving person. So thankful that through Christ that death is never goodbye but an I'll see you later! My thoughts and prayers are with you all as you grieve his presence in this world. Love you, Paula

I worked with Clark, off and on some days on the road together. He was always making us laugh and being funny at work. He could make you feel better when you were having a bad day. My thoughts and prayers are with his family and friends. We already miss having him around. I only knew him for a short time, but he treated me like we had been friends forever. The memorial service was very touching. I worked with him the week before he passed away, It was a shock to hear the bad news about his passing. I wish that I had gotten to know him better. He will definitely be missed, but never forgotten!!!

“ I remember briefly hearing about this and having so much going on that it slipped my mind. I didnt know him that well, we just hung out a few times. He was always respectful towards me, i always felt at ease and "apart of "around him, comfortable in my own skin. I'm thankful I got the chance to spend some time with him

“ It's been since April, 9 months, but it seems like yesterday I sent spaghetti & meatballs to you. I hate the Chinese virus, for separating us. I hardly got to see you, in case you were in contact with anyone infected. Thank God that you called me every day! One of the many things I miss. I miss you so much & think of you all of the time! My life is darker without your light.

“ Clark was my younger "BIG" brother! I know his mom, Rocco and Charlie. My heart and love go to all of you at this difficult time. Clark was the strongest, hardest worker I've ever met. His heart and friendship to all who new him was as big as he was. Always fed, gave a place to stay and would help me if I ever asked! The girlfriends he had were all gorgeous and loved him for all he was. He could sing so good, make you laugh and was always looking out for his friends and family. Las Vegas and the world lost a really good man, son, brother, friend and great example of being kind to those he loved and even strangers. Patrick Hurley and all his Las Vegas friends shared many a great stories of this terrific guy! Miss you brother! Love you and your entire family!
