“ Dad I will always remember the things you taught me. Your hard work in the Appalachian coal mines, and the script card of the company store. You always said , " You can do anything you want to do if you work hard". You left the mines to make s better life for your family, and you sure did that. You taught me the values of the Appalachian life family sticks together no matter what through good and bad, you love each other. You help people if you can. You taught me the value of a dollar, and not to wast things. I will always remember pulling out of your driveway coming home, you would always say " Dad loves you now". You were such a strong man. This life will never be the same without you. Love you forever. It's not goodbye just see you later. Till we meet in Heaven.

“ My dearest most loving Pop. Words cannot express how hard it will be to not see that smile again. You have always been right by my side no matter what, giving me advice and wisdom. Your heart was bigger than anyone I know. You always tried to do the right thing and would always tell me to read my Bible for myself. I remember being a little girl when you worked and lived in Maryland, riding my big wheel and when you would see me you would say “come here and hug Pops neck”. I will hold our memories dear and precious, always and forever and thank God for you in my life. I love you with all my heart.
